NY STATE ASSOCIATION OF HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS HONORED WITH BEST PRACTICES AWARD

East Greenbush, NY – The New York State Association of Health Care Providers, Inc. (HCP) has been awarded a Best Practices Award from the NY State Psychological Association (NYSPA).

The Best Practices Award, part of the 2007 NY State Psychological Association Psychologically Healthy Workplace Awards for 2007, honors a work environment that implements innovative programs or policies that contribute to a psychologically healthy work environment.

“We are most honored to receive this award,” said Phyllis A. Wang, HCP president. “Our employees are our first priority. We are dedicated to providing an environment that promotes, encourages and supports a healthy work environment.”

HCP provides a multitude of practices and benefits designed to support staff. The organization believes that the personal and professional development of employees contributes to successfully fulfilling HCP’s mission and goals.

Wang added that employees have the ability to take advantage of benefits like flexible work hours, tuition reimbursement, rewarded time off, family oriented holiday and summer events, semi-annual staff development days, 80% paid health insurance premiums for both family and individual plans and an in-depth orientation program which ensures new staff are comfortable with HCP policies and procedures.

Dr. Suzanne Roff, chair of the Awards Committee, noted “It’s clear to see that HCP is making the healthy workplace principles a priority in their day-to-day implementations and is commended for exceptional work-life balance practices and employee orientation programs.”

The awards from Albany are part of the national American Psychological Association’s encouragement of healthy workplace practices. NYSPA President Dr. Dianne Polowczyk stated “We believe that these awards encourage companies to recognize the essential role they play in the economic and personal health of the work force.”
