

Be the voice of home care!

As we approach New York State's 2020 Legislative Session and budget season with a reported state budget gap of $6.1 billion dollars, $4 billion being attributed to Medicaid, and many analysts pointing to the growth in Home Care as the cause, it is critical for the home care industry to make their voices heard. New York legislators need to understand how budget and bill proposals impact your business, employees, patients and the future of home and community-based care.
